

Marina Coast Water District Receives National Safety Award

In June, the American Water Works Association (AWWA) recognized the Marina Coast Water District (MCWD) for its outstanding safety record. With 4,700 utility company members from across the country, AWWA is recognized as the authoritative, national resource on safe water.

The award is based on the number of lost-time work injuries in relation to the number of hours worked for all employees and is calculated similarly to how workers compensation insurance rates are set. “Making safety a top priority in our working environments benefits our employees, their families and our ratepayers,” states MCWD General Manager Jim Heitzman.