ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT

DEFINITION

Under general supervision, provides responsible assistance in the analysis, implementation and monitoring of programs; provides highly responsible administrative staff assistance including conducting specific and moderately complex analyses of a wide-range of departmental activities; develops and maintains databases; performs varied office administrative support to assigned department and related management, professional, and operational staff; performs technical support work for the District such as regulatory reporting and work order processing; and performs related work as required.

SUPERVISION RECEIVED AND EXERCISED

General direction is given by the District Engineer. No direct supervision of staff is exercised.

CLASS CHARACTERISTICS

This is a fully experienced office administrative classification. The incumbent coordinates the office administrative work for the Department by performing multiple duties to ensure efficient District service provision. Responsibilities require the frequent use of tact, discretion, and independent judgment as well as knowledge of departmental and District activities. The work requires the interpretation and application of policies, procedures and regulations and involves frequent contact with the public. This class is distinguished from other office administrative classes in that the nature, scope, and diversity of responsibilities originating at this level requires a broader understanding of District functions and the capability of relieving the District Engineer of day-to-day office administrative and coordinative duties.
